EQUIPMENT LEASING

By way of an agreement, businesses can lease their equipment need to operate in the most cost-effective way. Now more than ever, all types of equipment are leased. Automobiles, aircraft, personal computers, mainframes, laboratory equipment, nuclear magnetic images, adding machines, satellites, trucks and ships are commonly leased. Leasing is better because it preserves bank credit lines needed for other purposes.

In our present high technology office environment, today's state of the art computer system is tomorrow's anachronism. New technology is rapidly being displaced by even newer technology. The typical equipment lease can run for 3, 5 or 7 years after which you can simply walk away from the lease and leasing the latest state of the art equipment. This gives a company that all-important edge over its competition and its marketplace.

Small as well as big companies can get Sale-Leaseback financing. An arrangement whereby equipment is sold to the leasing company then leased back to the business. Our leaseback funders offer terms from two to eight years for businesses that are seeking capital and have only hard assets as collateral.

IMPORT – EXPORT FINANCING
